Pennsylvania Democrats. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Sept. 10 .- Delegates to the Democratic State convention which meets to-morrow to choose candidates for State treasurer and six Superior Court judgships, are arriving on every train. The city is gaily decorated in honor of the occasion and leading citizens are taking an active part in the entertainment of visitors. It is expected there will be a number of candidates for the six judge-ships. The court consists of seven judges, and as the Republicans have nominated only six, the Democrats are sure of electing one man. The present Democratic member of the court, Judge McCarthy, of Philadelphia, is being opposed by a portion of the delegation from this city, but his friends here are working very hard in LOUISVILLE, Sept. 10 .- Good sport was furnished the 1,200 people who attended the second day's trots of the Louisville Driving and Fair Association. The track was in perfect shape-if possible, faster than yesterday-and the sport, on the whole, excelled that of the opening day. The first thing on the programme was the unfinished 2:25 pacing race of yesterday. Mandoline, who won the last two heats yesterday, took the only heat paced this afterwhich fortunately resulted in no serious injury to the drivers or horses, occurred in the second heat of the 2:10 pace. When near the half-mile pole Tommy Brown, driven by Starr, and Symboleer, driven by Curry, came together, both drivers were unseated and Symboleer went down the embankment. Tommy Brown righted his sulky and ran to the wire without his driver. After winning two straight heats in the 2:10 pace, W. W. P. was distanced in the third. In the fifth heat of the first race Annie, who finished third, was set back for going into the air too often. The third and fourth events were postponed until to-morrow on account of darkness. Sum-

FLATBUSH STAKES AT SEVEN FUR-LONGS, WON BY REQUITAL IN 1:26.

Head Finish Between Song and Dance and Redskin-Louisville Crowd Not Swelled by the G. A. R.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 .- The attendance at the Coney Island Jockey Club to-day was the smallest of the meeting, only three thousand being present. The Flatbush stakes contained such cracks as the Futurity's first and second horses, and also Ben Brush. The opening race was won by the favorite, Helen Nichols, easily. The Futurity winner, Requital, again demonstrated his superiority by once more defeating Crescendo and also Ben Brush, at seven furlongs, in the fast time of 1:26. The fifth race was a head-finish between Song and Dance and Redskin. The last race was won by Langdon, the second choice, easily. Summaries:

FIRST WAS EASY.

Opening Game of the Series at K. C. Won by Indianapolis.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 10 .- After today's game there can hardly be room for the slightest doubt that the Hoosiers will win the pennant of the Western League in a walk. This afternoon the coming champions met the "Blues" for the first game of the deciding series. The Hoosiers "didn't do a thing to them." They played a game of ball the equal of which, after the first inning, has never been witnessed in Kansas City. They made the "Blues" look like amateurs and played ball all around them at every stage of the game. The Hoosiers went to pieces in the first inning and allowed the "Blues" to pile up three unearned runs after the side should have been retired, but after that they settled down to business and the "Blues" had very little opportunity to score, while the Hoosiers kept hitting the ball apparently at will and making runs in nearly every inning. The fielding of Roat and Canavan was the feature of the game from an Indianapolis standpoint.

In the first inning the "Blues" got three runs, after the side should have been out, on costly errors and hits by Hernon, Carroll and Manning. In their half the Hoosa single by Motz. Then neither scored again until the fourth inning, when the Hoosiers touched off the fireworks and piled up six runs before the "Blues" had time to realize how it all happened. Canavan and Motz led off with hits to right field, and then McCarthy and Newell both bunted at Hastings, and he fell all over himself in trying to field the balls, with the result that he failed to get either of the men and went to pieces, forcing in one run on bases on balls. After he had been rapped hard for about four hits he lost heart and effectiveness at the same time. After the fourth inning it was easy for the Hoosiers, and they made as many runs as they wanted whenever they needed

Fisher pitched a great game of ball against the "Blues," and they were unable to straighten out his curves to any alarming extent. The weather was clear and hot, and the game was witnessed by 3,500 Kansas City.

INDIANAPOLIS "ROOTERS" HAPPY.

The News, as It Came in Detail, Arouses Much Enthusiasm. The downfall of Manning's men on their own grounds yesterday was good news to she wore about her waist was concentrated the hundreds of enthusiasts who find out the result a soon as the game is over. There are half a hundred of them to whom the accounts of the victory in the morning papers will be in the line of stale news. They listened with wide-open ears to the report of the game as it came over the wire at 68 East Wabash street yesterday afternoon and was called play by play, by operator Fuller. There was a room full of gloom there while that first inning was coming in, but when Watkins's men began scoring in dead earnest the runs came so fast that the enthusiasm spread all over the room and away out into the street, where probably a hundred persons had gathered to pick up the good news. It was as near an approach to a game as could be imagined, and all hands "rooted" right along as the various Indianapolis favorites came to bat. Roat was urged to "line her out for a homer," and McFarland to "put the ball over that short left-field fence." When big Fred Carroll was caught stealing second everybody volunteered the information that he couldn't steal a base in a thousand years on McFarland. Then there were a hundred little episodes of interest during the progress of the game. 'Ine Kansas the progress of the game. Ine Kansas City operator grew pretty warm during that fourth inning, and wired that Hastings couldn't get the ball within a foot of the plate. He added: "He's a good thing to-day—push him along." Just then Manning took Hastings out and the operator wired: "Here's another soft mark for you. Eat him up." They were in a sarcastic humor, evidently, out at the Kansas City grounds. sas City grounds.

Sporting Notes. That pennant is safe.

Chicago's new-found Friend is indeed a Indianapolis and Kansas City have each won eight games of the series. Hoosiers Thompson and Orth did their share to win for Philadelphia yesterday. Neither Rusie, German nor Meekin was able to stem Chicago's rush for victory St. Paul dropped one yesterday and Terre Haute will probably give Comiskey's men trouble to-day.

The McCordsville Barbers defeated the Fortville Knickerbockers yesterday by a Pitching as he has been lately, Cross should more than hold his own against Kling or Daniels. Well, Indianapolis should take one of the remaining two at Kansas City now that yesterday's came so easy. McFarland dropped Hogriever's throw to the plate on Bergen in the first inning yesterday, but it didn't matter after all. Another victory to-day or to-morrow will wire out the stain of those three defeats at the hands of Kansas City last week. Brooklyn and Cincinnati played very evenly yesterday. The former got six hits to the latter's five, and won by a score of

There was an exhibition of "rocky" field-ing for would-be champions at Baltimore yesterday. The winners made six errors and the losers five. It now looks as if Baltimore would keep the pennant. The "Spiders" got but one off McMahon yesterday, while the 'Orioles' took seven from Cuppy. Fisher was hit on the leg by a lin called until he got over its effects. He then went in and pitched the game out in grand style, batting in a couple of runs spon after to help demolish the disappointed and disheartened Cowboys. Motz had to run for him. Hastings had a much worse case of "rat-tles" yesterday than did Fisher in that well-remembered tenth inning here last Tuesday. Kansas City's crack pitcher had much trouble in the fourth and fifth getting them over, and when he did the ball was hit safely. Then, to crown all, he had a couple of fumbles. It was a bad day for Charley, but he is a great pitcher just

BICYCLE TOURNAMENT

OF THE SPRINGFIELD RACES. Remarkable Work of Cooper, Bald,

WINNERS OF PRELIMINARY HEATS

Cabanne, Rigby and Kizer-Small Crowd of Spectators Present.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 10.-The neats in the great Springfield bicycle tourament were run to-day. The rain last night was so hard that it was impossible to run any of the heats this morning, but forty-four races in all were gotten off today, with but two accidents, and those were not the fault of the starters, but of the men who, in their anxiety, came together in the races. In Class B there was but one fall and that was not serious. In all of the mile and two-mile races, scratch events, heats of but a half mile each were run. Many of the sprints were exciting. Cooper made the most phenomenal run of the afternoon, when, in a heat of a mile race, he fairly flew from tenth position to second and all in the last twenty-five yards. Bald and Cabanne qualified in every heat in which they started and the work of so doing was no easy job with the field of starters this afternoon. Cooper rode far better than his work yesterday at Hartford would have led anybody to expect. He was steadier. Baid won first place in every heat in which he started but one and in that Cabanne caught Bald napping at the tape and jumped him Gardnapping at the tape and jumped him. Gardiner displayed good form and was placed in nearly every heat in which he started, failing, however, to qualify in the mile record race for the second day of the meeting, the event of the Springfield meet. The reason for this was not apparent, for Gardiner was besten out by two boys. Gardiner was beaten out by two boys, Rigby and Kizer, both of whom rode like flends in all events of the day. Kizer qual-

fiends in all events of the day. Rizer qualified in four races and was unplaced in but one. Rigby qualified in three and was unplaced in but one. Bald qualified in all of the scratch events and started in none of the handicaps. Cabanne was placed four times and role from scratch in the mile two days and unplaced in two events in which he started, neither time, however, which he started, neither time, however, by a very great margin, generally fourth. Bliss was placed in four of the events and failed in one, the mile record race. No pacemaking was employed in any of the events and no remarkable time was made. Every finish though was exciting. The attendance at the race was very small, but this was to be expected on the day of the heats. the heats.

A Seven-Inch English Girdle to Be Worn by the Autumn Girl. New York World.

The belt of the autumn girl is a fashionable monstrosity. It is the most conspicuous article of her raiment. She made her first public appearance in a swagger gown as a Futurity maiden, and upon the belt she wore about her walst was concentrated every man and woman's attention. It was seven inches deep. It began at the walst line and terminated at a point a little below the swell of the bust, and fitted her form to perfection. A handsome clasp adorned it, which was composed of two coiled snakes with heads erect, as if about to strike. The emerald eyes gleamed with such vividness as to make one shudder at the realistic imitation. the realistic imitation

Belts have been an important feature of woman's dress all summer, and will be more in evidence this autumn. English women are prone to belts, and Americans are Anglomaniacs by nature; therefore they are following the fashion with a vim set by their sisters across the water. The big stores are exhibiting many new and very striking designs in belts. The ingenuvery striking designs in belts. The ingenuity and originality is surprising, and one wonders what next may seize the feminine fancy and deplete the feminine purse.

Some of the most elegant belts in quality are made of fancy woven silk elastic, the surface being of satin finish. These vary in width from five to eight inches, according as one's physique demands curtailing or enlargement to produce the desired effect. They can be had in colors and are fastened by elongated clasps and novel buckles conforming to the depth of the belt. These are worn with empire gowns to produce the short-waist characteristic of this style of dress. By reason of its elasticity it permits of the free and graceful motion of the body, which is an additional advantage to women who affect the wearing of the belt. Who affect the wearing of the belt.

Gold and silver spangled belts are universally popular and are worn with the more pretentious gowns. One seen in the shops is fashioned of silk webbing and is thickly studded with the metal disks. An attractive rhinestone buckle or one of imitation jowels closely resembling the real is the proper fastening. Buckles play no ner at the same place. Cross will pitch unimportant part in the disposition of the for Indianapolis, and either Daniels or belt and odd hooks are a feature.

Bicycles Vs. Carriages.

New York Commercial Advertiser. The bicycle craze in Gotham has plunged the livery stable men into the deepest mourning. Nearly all the big family hotels and high-class apartment houses uptown have set aside a large apartment in the basement regions as a storage room for their guests' bicycles. The clerk of an uptown hotel said recently that at least 50 per cent. of the guests—the old as well as the young—owned wheels, and as their case was not exceptional, he considered that the books of New York hotels of all kinds would show a deficit in carriage charges of at least $200,000, traceable directly to the preference of customers for the wheel. Leading carriage builders, who admit a falling off of a half million dollars in the past year's local and country trade through the wheeling craze, and the losses of men in the collateral lines, such as harness makers, horseshoers, produce dealers and numerous others which depend directly on the use of horses by their customers, will easily add another half million to the wrong side of the past year's ledger, the entire amount of loss when footed up reaching the sum of $3,020,000.
